

DigiMan Digital Preservation Awareness Video

Contributed by Bert Granberg
07, May. 2009
Last Updated 07, May. 2009

Everyone in the GIS Community works with important data. The European Union is putting together cartoons that raises digital data preservation awareness in a cartoon format. As their first cartoon is now available on YouTube , everyone can watch DigiMan and Team Digital Preservation save the world from disaster.

According to the Digital Preservation Europe:

- "We believe these cartoons encapsulate complex digital preservation issues and problems and explain them in a funny and easy to follow plot. Please feel free to make use of these animations as part of your own work to raise awareness and understanding about digital preservation. Future animations will be released on our You Tube Channel. To learn more about DPE or to access our suite of preservation resources and tools, please go to <http://www.digitalpreservationeurope.org>"